

Maine Author

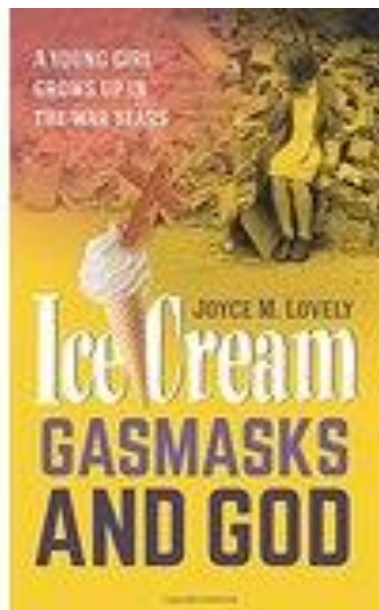

Joyce Lovely

Wednesday, August 3rd

6pm-8pm

At the Belgrade Public Library

Fascinating, funny and gloriously nostalgic, Ice Cream, Gas Masks and God is the author's trip down memory lane to 1940s Liverpool, where early reminiscences include not just the hated gas mask, but also the regular night time spells in the air raid shelter as the bombs fell. Discover what it was like to live a child's life with air-raids, bombs falling, and the hated gasmasks! Then follow her teenage years and young adulthood in Liverpool and London. The book culminates in her marriage to a parson and three years on the remote Shetland Islands where she experiences challenges, humour and the many kindnesses offered by the villagers.

Sponsored by the Labun Estate and the Belgrade Public Library