Thousands of soldiers die every year to defend their country. United States Army Staff Sergeant Travis Mills of Rome, Maine, was sure that he would become another statistic when, during his third tour of duty in Afghanistan, he was caught in an IED blast four days before his twenty-fifth birthday. Against the odds, he lived, but at a severe cost—Travis became one of only five soldiers from the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq to survive a quadruple amputation. Come hear of his struggle to recover from this life-changing event and make a difference as portrayed in his book, Tough As They Come.
